

There are a number of training programs offered for Corporate Flight Attendants. It is very important that you select a program that maximizes your investment after the training without needing additional training other than the yearly re-current training for emergency situations (can be done on-line).

Question to ask...

Who can you call when you have a question or aren't sure what to do in a particular situation, and who will steer you towards Corporate Flight Jobs?

Beyond & Above has been doing this for graduates and more for no additional cost since day 1.

Beyond and Above offers a complete program comprised of all the elements listed below and upon completion you have no other classes to attend or look for. Also no more money to pay out for training before getting started.

In making a selection of which training Company to use you should make sure it is as complete as the training you will receive at Beyond and Above and the support is equal to what we provide after training for "FREE". If it is not, you are not receiving full value for your investment and you should choose to enroll with Beyond and Above.
